File No. D.4926.

A number of employees of the Shanghai Mutual Telephone Company were taking tea in a teashop on Kiukiang Road about 1.30 p.m. May 25, 1933. Three strange Chinese named Ting Ts Nyi (丁志義), Yu Tsing(俞鈞) and Woo Sz Ong(吳時洪) came and endeavoured to force one of them named Dien Foh Yuen(田福元) to go to the Public Safety Bureau. Dien, however, succeeded in resisting with the aid of his colleagues. Police came to the scene and arrested Ting Ts Nyi and Yu Tsing. Both of these stated that they were employed by one Lu Kuh Ching (呂克勤), a political official of Nanking who has offices in the Public Safety Bureau. The case is at present on remand.
